

Hello,

I wanted to let you know about this online conference happening May 28 and 29 that you might be interested in. Please pass this on to all the members of the Faulkner Society of Japan too. You can email Ahmed Honeini, the organizer, at the email address below to register and then join via Zoom depending on how the times line up in Japan.

Ahmed attended our Faulkner and Hemingway Conference and has been organizing Faulkner events in London. Here is the link to the schedule and this message from him:

"Faulkner, the 1920s, and Modernism colloquium. A reminder that we'll be holding the event via the Zoom conferencing platform.

If you'd like to tune in on any of the keynotes or the individual papers, drop me a line via FB or through the link below. Please include a valid email address in your message. The full schedule for both days is now on the website. I hope you can join us!"

ahmed.honeini@rhul.ac.uk

I hope you are all doing well during this pandemic. Stay safe!

Chris

Dr. Christopher Rieger
Interim Chair, Dept. of Communication Studies and Modern Languages
Director, Center for Faulkner Studies
(573) 651-2247/(573) 651-2620